10. Servicemembers Civil Relief Act

For a covered obligation incurred before the servicemember entered military service, 50 U.S.C. §3937 limits interest, including covered charges, to 6% during service. For mortgage-type security the protection also covers the following year. Excess interest is forgiven and periodic payments reflect that reduction. Written notice with orders or other qualifying evidence may be given through 180 days after service ends. The statute also provides for creditor verification through the Defense Manpower Data Center and court relief where the legal test is met.

11. Military Lending Act

Military Lending Act coverage depends on the creditor, the credit and the borrower’s covered status, including qualifying dependents, when the credit is extended. Covered credit requires the separate disclosures, 36% military annual percentage rate calculation and restrictions on terms required by 10 U.S.C. §987 and 32 CFR Part 232. Residential mortgages and certain purchase-money credit secured by the purchased vehicle or personal property have separate exclusions. This note records no representation that disclosures were delivered.
